

TROLLEY DISASTER
KILLS 18; HURTS 40Motor and Express Crash on Illinois Interurban.

CARS ARE SPLINTERED

Practically Every Person on the Train Injured.

Victims Composed of Excursion
Party Bound from Charleston, Ill., to the County Fair at Mattoon.
Farm Houses Turned Into Hospitals and Housewives Become Nurses, Ministering to Injured.

Charleston, Ill., Aug. 30.—Eighteen persons were killed and forty were seriously injured in a trolley disaster on the Mattoon Interurban, one mile west of this city at noon to-day.

As a result of the collision John A. Backus, who was in charge of the dispatching system, committed suicide from brooding over the disaster. He was a protégé of Judge Grosscup, of Chicago, who is the heaviest stockholder in the road. Many of the injured are in a critical condition and it is feared fifteen or more will not survive.

A special car, together with automobiles and fast driving horses, conveying doctors and medical aid, was hurriedly dispatched from this city to the scene of the wreck. The wreck occurred on a sharp curve, and the passenger car, with a trailer, collided head on with an express car, both going thirty miles an hour. The car was loaded with passengers, bound for the county fair at Mattoon.

Word was sent back to town, and all the physicians in the city were hurriedly taken to the scene in wagons.

Housewives turned nurses and near-by farm houses became hospitals. The dead were brought back to this city and the injured taken to the hospital at Mattoon.

AUTO KILLS TODDLER BABY.

Chauffeur, After Vain Effort to Evade
It, Collapses When It Dies.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Durham, N. C., Aug. 30.—Ethel, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Horner, was almost instantly killed by an automobile this morning.

The machine was being driven by Edward Cheek, teller of the Citizens' National Bank. As he turned into the street from a morning country drive two small children toddled out from behind an embankment and ran directly in front of the car. Cheek, realizing that it would be impossible to stop the car, made an effort to turn out of the road, but could not avoid striking the Horner baby.

The auto struck the child in the breast, inflicting a dark bruise just above the heart, which resulted in death in twenty-five minutes.

Cheek collapsed utterly when the child died. The baby's father was on a jury trying a murder case when notified of the accident. The court immediately adjourned out of sympathy.

Cheek surrendered to the sheriff, but was released without bail after an investigation by the coroner this evening.

SECRET MARRIAGE REVEALED.

Son of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf
Weds Widow.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—The secret marriage of William Metcalf, twenty-three years old, son of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, to Mrs. Ouida Vevans, widow, who is ten years his senior, has caused a social sensation in Oakland.

Young Metcalf did not tell his parents of the proposed marriage and they first learned of it yesterday, though it occurred August 20. The bride has a daughter five years old.

Young Metcalf is a clerk in a local bank. The secretary has forgiven his son an older brother, Victor H. Jr., will soon marry Miss Marie Butters, daughter of a millionaire mining operator of Australia and Alaska. The wedding will be the social event of the season in Oakland.

CHURCH SPLITS WIDE OPEN.

Congregation, Consisting of Three Members, Unable to Agree.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Pennsburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—Though the congregation of the Pennsburg Baptist Church comprises but three members, they have been split into two factions by a hot fight, and the Rev. Mr. Fahl, of Auburn, itinerant pastor, came here this week and tried to restore peace.

A church was erected years ago when the congregation was in a more flourishing condition, but for some time there have been only three members. These maintained regular services, each filling the pulpit in turn. Recently a difference arose and two refused to attend the services. So the remaining member had to serve as pastor and congregation. The Rev. Mr. Fahl tried to bring the factions together, but each side declares nothing can be accomplished so long as the other remains in the church.

ASBURY PARK SHOCKED.

Giddy Throng of Maskers Sets the Boardwalk in Whirl.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 30.—Conservative Asbury Park was shocked into giddy motion to-night by 15,000 maskers who helped to model a very creditable "rough-house" on the boardwalk.

The procession moved down Ocean avenue, and filed into the big amphitheater where 15,000 spectators watched the fanciful collection in the contortions of a mazy dance before Queen Titania. She sat on a throne with her court ladies. Betwixt confetti, tickers, and buzzers, 200,000 spectators scattered along the streets and boardwalk and were kept in a state of incipient dementia.

WILL USE WIRELESS 'PHONES.

Navy Department Plans Their Installation on Battle Ships.

The Navy Department is making arrangements for the installation of wireless telephones on all the battle ships which it is proposed to send to the Pacific.

Tests of the instrument will be made upon two of the battle ships, probably the Connecticut and the Virginia, and if it is found that the apparatus works satisfactorily, all of the ships will be equipped with wireless telephones, in addition to the wireless telegraphy outfits which they all carry.

It is claimed by the company which proposes to furnish the wireless 'phones that their use is practicable in any kind of weather for a distance of five miles, and can be used for communication at a much greater distance under favorable weather conditions.

ROCKEFELLER CHECK ON WAY.

Warrant for $73.95 Duly Signed and Safely Deposited in Mails.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—At last John D. Rockefeller's claim of $73.95 against the United States is to be paid. Chief Deputy Marshal John P. Wolfe made out a check for the amount to-day, put it in an envelope, addressed it to the Standard Oil company president's Cleveland home, and dropped it in the mail.

Mr. Rockefeller probably will receive it in the first mail to-morrow.

BIRTHRIGHT BRINGS DOLLAR.

Kitty Huddleston Quitts $400,000
Quarter-Million-Dollar Homestead.

Pittsburg, Aug. 30.—For the sum of $1, Kitty Huddleston, wife of the late Charles L. Davis, known to the stage world as Alvin Joslyn, has sold her quarter-million birthright.

To-day a quitclaim deed was filed, whereby the woman transferred to Receiver Rinkner, of the Defont Enterprises National Bank of Allegheny, the renowned Huddleston homestead.

SCHWAB TO GIVE A MILLION

Steel Man Promises that Sum for an Industrial School.

Request to Be Made Some Time in the Future to the Pennsylvania State College.

Pittsburg, Aug. 30.—Close friends of Charles M. Schwab declare that he is about to emulate his former partners, Andrew Carnegie and Henry Phipps, in philanthropic ideas.

Industrial schools will be his forte. He will begin by giving to Pennsylvania State College an industrial department costing $1,000,000, with an equipment second to none in the world. Mercantile grades will be taught to worthy young men.

New York, Aug. 30.—Charles M. Schwab was at a dinner of the Commercial Travelers' Club, at Coney Island, to-night.

Asked if he intended to give $1,000,000 for an industrial school in the Pennsylvania State College, he said:

"It seems to me that little has been done for the State College, and some time ago I made a semi-promise to Congressman Focht of such a gift. I shall not give the school at the present time, but some time in the future."

CHILD DIES SAVING SISTER.

Four-year-old Abraham Goldstein Proves Himself a Hero.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—Four-year-old Abraham Goldstein proved himself a hero here to-day, and died in doing it.

He tried to save his sister, who is two years older than he, from being run over by a trolley car, and the girl did escape with slight injuries.

Israel Goldstein, who has a cobble shop at 417 Germantown avenue, is the father of the children. He gave Ada 2 cents for candy. She ran across the street in front of a trolley car that was approaching. Frightened, she stood stock still, and as fast as his little legs could carry him, Abraham scurried out into the street and caught his sister by the arm.

"Come away!" he cried, but he was too late.

The fender of the car struck both children. Ada received only a slight scalp wound. Her brother fell under the car.

FAMOUS DENT FARM SOLD.

President Grant's Birthplace Brings
$75,000 at Auction.

St. Louis, Aug. 30.—The historic Dent farm, once owned by Gen. Grant, which is just outside the city limits in St. Louis County, was sold at auction for $75,000.

The farm was mortgaged to the Vanderbilts when Grant became President. It comprises 428 acres and has long been a point of interest, as the old log cabin, once occupied by Grant, is still standing.

ALL BUT EIGHT DEAD

Quebec Bridge Disaster Has Eighty-four Victims.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE AMERICANS

Only Sixteen Bodies Recovered from the Wreckage—Four Million Dollars Worth of Steel of Great Structure in Bed of the River—Cause of Disaster Not Yet Established.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—All but eight of the ninety-two bridge builders who were working on the massive cantilever bridge under construction on the St. Lawrence River, nine miles above Quebec, which collapsed last night, are believed to be dead. Of this number presumably thirty were Indians, twenty-five skilled American mechanics, and the rest French Canadians.

The Dead Number Eighty-four.

R. A. Yansell, general foreman; John Worley, chief engineer, and James Idaho, all of Pennsylvania, were among those whose bodies were said to have been recovered this morning.

It has thus far been impossible to determine how the accident occurred. None of the survivors of the wrecked bridge can offer any explanation.

Half of the immense structure, which was to have been the longest of its kind in the world, is now buried in the St. Lawrence River. Only 16 of the 84 bodies had been recovered from the great mass of twisted steel wreckage up to noon, although divers are at work and are constantly finding bodies pinned under the debris.

It is expected that most of the bodies will be recovered to-day, as the work of rescue is progressing as rapidly as possible, and the Dominion and Quebec governments have sent troops to the scene.

A Most Miraculous Escape.

Probably the most miraculous escape from death was that of an engineer who was running a locomotive and train of cars on the bridge when it collapsed. The cars all carried heavy cranes. There was a load of steel on the bridge also. The engineer said he felt the structure sag. He reversed the throttle on his locomotive, but the bridge continued to sway, as if about to fall. The next instant the crash came. The engineer went down with the train, lost consciousness, and knew nothing further until he was found and revived on shore. He believes he must have been washed ashore, but how he escaped drowning, he is unable to tell.

The disaster, which occurred at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, promises to-day to be one of the worst of its kind on record. Besides the long list of dead, $4,000,000 worth of steel construction is at the bottom of the river.

Cause of Accident Still Mystery.

Only the most meager details as to the identity of the dead have been obtained. Some of them, however, are known to have been residents of Pennsylvania, as the contract for the bridge was let to the Phoenix Bridge Company, of Phoenixville, Pa., and it was known that many of the workmen had come from that State. One of the bodies recovered is that of Mr. Burke, resident engineer of the work for the contractors.

A partial list of the dead includes, besides Burke, Carl Swanson, of Philadelphia; Fast and Meredith, who are supposed to have come from Ohio, and the following residents in the vicinity of the bridge: Victor Hardy, Michael Hardy, James Handy, Gallixte Hardy, Joseph Boucher, two brothers named Wilson, two named Hazeman, Henry French, two brothers named Proulx, and four men named Birons, Binet, Beaudry, and Norton.

The exact cause of the disaster has not been determined. While there was a wind blowing of twenty-eight miles an hour, it is not believed this could have been responsible for the collapse of the great structure, which had already withstood considerably more pressure.

SCULPTOR'S DAUGHTER SUICIDE

Girl of Twenty-three Hangs Herself in Bathroom at Norfolk.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 30.—Susanna Bonet, twenty-three years of age, the daughter of a French sculptor employed at the Jamestown Exposition, to-day committed suicide by hanging herself with a rope, suspended from a water pipe in her bathroom.

Dependancy, caused by poor health, is given as the cause of the young woman's suicide. Her father, Leo Bonet, says that his daughter has been in poor health for some time, and that once before she attempted suicide.

The girl and her father have been following large expositions. They came from Paris.

MRS. SAGE BUYS MANSION.

Purchases Historic Hunting Property
at Sag Harbor.

New York, Aug. 30.—The historic hunting mansion at Sag Harbor, L. I., now occupied by the Rev. Gordon Lewis, rector of Christ Church, of that place, has been purchased by Mrs. Russell Sage. Mr. Lewis has been asked to vacate the premises in thirty days.

Mrs. Sage was born in Sag Harbor, and in the last few years she has made several donations to that old village. The natives are wondering what she will do with the hunting property. Some say they think she will turn it into a hotel.

OLD HOMESTEAD IN DANGER

Fairbanks Association of America
Needs More Funds.

Fears Mecca at Dedham May Pass
Out of Control of Members of the Family.

Boston, Aug. 30.—The fact that the Fairbanks Association of America, which includes the Vice President of the United States, had less than $50 in its treasury on the date of the annual meeting, to which amount was added a donation of $100 before the meeting closed, has disturbed a number of members. They profess to be in grave fear lest the Fairbanks homestead at Dedham, which was purchased as a Mecca for those who are descendants of the distinguished Englishman who gave the family name to America, will not continue in their care.

The association was formed some years ago and the popular idea has been that of descendants of the original Fairbanks were now members. This is not the fact. There are less than 1,000. The association holds title to the homestead, although its cash payment was only $100. The mortgage is $3,500. Accrued interest on this mortgage was paid some time ago. Another payment will soon be due. To meet this there is now only $14 in the treasury.

It was hoped that the dollar membership in the association would provide a sufficient sum for all needs. However it was not taken into account that a caretaker would have to be paid and that a considerable sum would be needed to restore the house and make the grounds presentable. A woman's auxiliary was formed to arrange for a large fair in Boston. Twice this fair has been postponed. Something of the kind, perhaps, will be held in the near future.

J. W. Fairbanks, the new president of the association, said to-day:
"At the home coming July 20, the question of finance did not come up officially. It did not seem to us that the matter should be considered while the Vice President was our guest. But at the banquet in the evening ex-Senator Wilson Fairbanks submitted a proposition for raising $10,000, offering himself to be one of eleven different groups to give fixed amounts, and by the plan assuming for himself an obligation of $300."

TUCKER SOCIAL HEAD

Exposition Rumpus Is Settled by the Directors.

"WAR" ENDS IN COMPROMISE

Director General's Diplomatic Appointee Has to Resign, but New Social Secretary to Former Will Arrange All the Entertainments.
Little Barr Pays the Piper.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 30.—President Harry St. George Tucker, of the Jamestown Exposition Company, has been vindicated in his contest with Director General James M. Barr over the management of the social affairs of the exposition. Mr. Barr says he also is satisfied.

Charles W. Kohlhaas, whom Mr. Barr appointed social and diplomatic representative of himself and the exposition, will not retain his connection with the fair. This was the result of a meeting of the exposition directors and numerous conferences this afternoon and to-night.

Mr. Tucker gave out the following interview:

"My position has been entirely vindicated. It was made clear that the director general did not mean to interfere with my duties as president of the exposition."

"The result of the matter is to establish the fact that I am the special head of the exposition and that Mr. Barr is the business head of it."

Social Secretary for Barr.

"Mr. Kohlhaas could not remain with the exposition. He resigned. Mr. Grundy, of Richmond, will be Mr. Barr's special secretary, and will report to and be responsible to him. He will arrange the details of each entertainment which may be given, but I will do the entertaining and the director general will pay the bills."

Telegrams from all over the State poured into the Exposition to-day. They were mainly protests against the position assumed by Mr. Barr, and urged that Mr. Tucker be vindicated. The senders of many of them threatened to withdraw their support from the Exposition if President Tucker should not be vindicated. One of these, with about twenty signatures, came from the Shenandoah Valley. The first signature on it was that of Marshall McCormick, of Berryville.

Considered a Compromise.

A committee of the board of directors, composed of Joseph Bryan, of Richmond; T. S. Garnett, E. T. Lamb, C. Brooks Johnson, and O. D. Batchelor, issued an official statement, setting forth the terms of the settlement of the affairs, which was assented to by both Tucker and Barr. The entire matter is regarded as a compromise.

The whole affair is now regretted by every one. The wish is expressed on every hand that the prince had never come.

It was said to-day that Mrs. Barr, wife of the director general, is ill as a result of the controversy. The whole affair grew out of a request from Mrs. Barr, herself in mourning, for tickets for her daughters' guests. The Barrs had not been invited. They had not been engaged in the social functions with Mrs. Tucker, and only those who had shown Mrs. Tucker social courtesies were invited to the fête champerre at the Army and Navy Club to meet the prince.

ROOSEVELT TO RUN PAPER.

Reported to Have Arranged to Control New York Tribune.

New York, Aug. 31.—The World this (Saturday) morning prints the following: "A rumor was in circulation yesterday that President Roosevelt had arranged to get control of the New York Tribune and to assume its direction after he leaves the White House."

"Hart Lyman, editor in chief of the Tribune, when asked about this report, said it was the first he had heard of it. He was sure that he would be one of the first to know about it if such a deal were even contemplated by Whitelaw Reid and Mr. Roosevelt."

ESCAPES FROM HYPNOTIST.

Wealthy Merchant's Wife Returns to Husband and Children.

Galveston, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Carlyle Westbrook, wife of a wealthy merchant of San Francisco, who left home mysteriously four months ago in company with Oscar Kruger, professor of hypnotism, started for home to-night to join her husband and three children.

She claims to have been hypnotized by Kruger, who held her under a spell during all this time, and to have recovered a few days ago. She immediately sought protection from Kruger, and the police arrested him and ordered him out of town. Kruger admitted everything except that he had the woman under his control. It is believed the woman's mind is affected, and particulars have been wired to the husband and children in San Francisco.

TWENTY FAMILIES HOMELESS.

Fire in Jersey City Does $300,000
Damage Before Checked.

Jersey City, Aug. 30.—Flames which threatened to consume an entire block of buildings in lower Jersey City to-night imperiled twenty families, who were left homeless, and did nearly $300,000 damage.

The danger became so extreme after all the apparatus of the local fire department had failed to check the flames that an appeal for help was sent to the New York authorities.

The fire started in the plant of the Uvalde Asphalt Company, at Hudson and Essex streets, at 9:30 o'clock.

The flames were under control at midnight.

VICTIM OF SOLDIER'S PRANK.

Fifth Maryland's Colonel to Probe Blanket Tossing.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Aug. 30.—Col. Henry M. Warfield, commander of the Fifth Regiment, has ordered an investigation of the treatment received by J. D'Arcy Didier, twenty-one years old, a member of Company A, while at camp at Jamestown three weeks ago.

Young Didier, who was a son of Mr. Eugene L. Didier, author and magazine writer, of 172 North Calvert street, died last Friday, and his father and friends believe that his death was due to the rough treatment received by him while in camp. They say that he was brutally tossed in a blanket and otherwise severely treated by fellow-members of his company.

SWAGGERT SAYS HE'S ALIVE

Objects to Being Identified in Pittsburg as a Suicide.Knows Miss Scroggs, but Hastes to Deny Story that He Is a Suitor for Her Hand.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Aug. 30.—"To pick up a morning newspaper and find that you have committed suicide in Pittsburg, a place you have not visited for more than a year, is calculated to at least cause a creepy feeling to pass up your spinal column," said Mr. Samuel Joseph Tilden Swaggert, an electrical engineer and expert on gas engines, this morning.

It was reported from Pittsburg yesterday that Mr. Swaggert had taken his life on Wednesday night on Duquesne Way, and that the body was identified yesterday by one M. W. Meick, with whom he is supposed to have roomed at the Hotel Yoder.

Mr. Swaggert was very much alive when a reporter saw him this morning at the office of the Loan-Hill Engineering Company, 329 Hanover street. Mr. Swaggert is employed there as an electrical expert. Mr. Swaggert is at a loss to know why the body of the suicide should be identified as that of himself. He says he does not know A. Meick in Pittsburg, and cannot imagine who the person can be with whom he is supposed to have roomed. There is one thing that has been puzzling Mr. Swaggert, however, and that is whether another person has been traveling under his name.

"It was more or less of a shock to me this morning when I saw the account of my death," he continued, "for just a moment before I felt as well and alive as I ever have. I was sitting in the office of the engineering company when I casually glanced over the paper. Then I saw in the headlines where S. J. T. Swaggert is found dead. For a moment I nearly fell off the chair, but, recovering myself, I saw the humorous side of the story."

Mr. Swaggert is very anxious that a correction should be made regarding the alleged love affair given as an excuse for the suicide in the morning papers' report of his death. It stated that he was in love with a Miss Scroggs, of Indianapolis, the daughter of a millionaire. Mr. Swaggert said to-day that he is not in love with the young woman; that he has only met her in a business way while doing some expert electrical work for her father, and that he merely has a casual acquaintance with her. As regards the money incident, Mr. Swaggert says his father, who lived in Prince George County, did leave an estate which has not yet been settled.

This morning he called his uncle, Mr. Benjamin F. Westerfield, of 818 Thompson avenue, Waverly, up on the telephone and informed him that he is still alive.
